Dear Nancy

Since you are an avid reader of Holistic Health Magazine, I just had to send you this information.

I know good nutrition for your pet is top priority.

You know about FDA and maybe you have heard of AAFCO. That is the watch-dog for animal food. What they are allowed to use in pet food will make you sick, both mentally and physically. It might even make you want to scream!

It's no surprise pets are not as healthy as they could be.

Pet food labels are so misleading. You want to feed your four-legged baby the most nutritious pet food. But manufacturers have found tricks to confuse the buyer. Do you know what is in "meat by-product"?

It's frustrating and disheartening when they care more about the dollar than your pet!

With so many questions about what you should feed your pet and what you shouldn't, can leave you confused. You want to know that you are making smart choices. We believe we have the answers you are looking for.

Click on the link below. Learn about keeping your dog safe and healthy before it's too late.

Sincerely

- P.S. Duke has a story to melt your heart! Rebecca is a good friend of mine. Duke is her companion. He has been with her through many highs and lows in her life. She was broken-hearted with what he was going through lately and wasn't sure if he would see another summer. Rebecca has given me permission to share her story.
